ANNUAL REPORT

2021

A TRIBUTE

Bhagat Phool Singh Ji
(1885-1942)

Born on February 24, 1885 in Mahra village of Sonapat district, Bhagat Phool Singh Ji was a visionary noble soul. His firm belief in empowerment and emancipation of women through education led him to establish a Gurukul with 03 girls at Khanpur Kalan in 1936. The anti-social elements did not support Bhagat Phool Singh Ji's seminal idea of women's education and consequently Bhagat Ji attained martyrdom on August 14, 1942.

Subhashini Devi
(1914-2003)

Subhashini Devi was Bhagat Phool Singh's spirited daughter who carried forward Bhagat Ji's legacy and philosophy. She tried hard to persuade the parents in the nearby villages to get their girls educated and also appealed the rich landlords of the area to donate their land for the noble cause of girls' education. Recognising her service to the society, the Government of India conferred upon her the prestigious Padmashree award in 1976.

EDITORIAL

Esteemed Reader

The Annual Report 2021-22 is a compendium of various activities that the university undertook during the period. Though COVID brought us face to face with an unexpected and unprecedented order, we, as a family, not only coped with it, but came out with flying colours. The Honourable Vice Chancellor of BPSMV Prof Sudesh in her foreword has given us a glimpse of the good works done by the university.

The Editorial Team has compiled the provided information with utmost care. However, any instance of inaccuracy or inappropriacy be shared with the team for recompilation and rectification.

From the Desk of the Vice-chancellor

It gives me immense satisfaction and a feeling of accomplishment to present before you the record of university activities performed with gaiety, in the midst of the pandemic, in the form of the Annual Report, 2021-22. COVID-19 continued to disrupt the normal order of life during this year as well. Deracinated by the sudden recurrence of the pandemic, this time a new, more lethal variant i.e. Delta Plus, the university was forced to resort to a virtual medium for teaching as well as routine functioning. However, we, as a family, moved on stoically to discharge our duties and responsibilities which helped us overcome the traumatic experience. I am proud to say that the university fraternity exhibited tremendous grit and determination in taking on the challenge of the efficient conduct of classes online and the successful conduct of the end-semester examinations through both, online and offline, modes. I must also put on record my appreciation and gratitude towards the maintenance, managerial and security staff, that performed its duties, unperturbed by the contagious nature of the pandemic.

In spite of the limited avenues that the pandemic left the university with, the year has been eventful academically and in terms of university's presence in Webinars and Online Conferences. I feel elated and privileged to be the representative of a posse of vibrant academicians, scholars and employees that did not let the adversity of a pandemic affect their efficiency and I am confident that, given their commitment, the coming years shall spell success for the university.

Prof. Sudesh

Registrar's Message

COVID-19 crafted an unprecedented and unparalleled paradox as well as predicament before an unsuspecting mankind. On the brighter side, though, it also acted as a catalyst to a lifestyle mankind was still trying to acknowledge and consequently, accept: the virtual world. The crevice was deep and the remedial graft sudden, and much like everyone else, we, the university fraternity, were caught off-guard. However, the publication of the Annual Report for 2021-22, a period that marks the ascent and zenith of the pandemic, personifies the zeal and zest that we, as a family, exude. The Annual Report is a compendium that testifies the well-directed endeavors that we as a family successfully executed.

In this duration, the university has come out with flying colours, academically as well as administratively. A university has a 'graded' order of significant people in it: the students are placed highest, followed by the faculty and administration. In other words, a university is what its students are and they are what their teachers make them. The administration supports the two, lending whatever assistance is required, eventually, for the emancipation of students. "Emancipation" becomes all the more critical in BPS Mahila Vishwavidyalaya, owing to it being a university exclusively for women.

I am glad and proud of the fact that the faculty and the administration left no stone unturned for concretizing the abstract idea of "empowering women with education". The teachers met their classes on the virtual platform, putting in their "sweat and soul" into the task, knowing that a significant student pool resided in rural areas, still in the process of alleviating themselves from the very basic requirements of living. The teaching faculty also made its presence felt, definitively and considerably, in various Academic Events, that were also re-scheduled and re-framed into the Online Module, given the pandemic.

The administration played its part to the best of its potential and purview. It has been an honour and a privilege for me to be leading a cohort of such dedicated employees, dedicated to a university that is dedicated to the noble cause of “empowering women”.

I felicitate the university fraternity for its perseverance, allegiance and loyalty to the cause of Bhagat Phool Singh ji and congratulate everyone on the release of the Annual Report, 2021-22.

Dr.
Neelam Malik

THE UNIVERSITY

The 20th century dawned on India with the paramount agenda of independence. All other agendas were drawn to the background in its halo. The social dimensions of Indian life were, obviously, relegated to the background in the rush for independence. However, men like Gandhi stood for social issues and the name extended as an epithet to one social reformer in Haryana: Bhagat Phool Singh Ji, as the dehati Gandhi. He established a Gurukul for boys in 1919 and then, inspired by the plight of women, opened a Gurukul for women at Khanpur Kalan in 1936. Assassinated in 1942, for his 'radical' views on women empowerment, his sapling was nurtured into a plant by his daughter Subhashini ji, who was awarded the Padamshri for her exemplary services. It was due to her relentless efforts that constituent institutions were added to the gurukul: BPS Memorial Girls' College (1967), BPS College of Education (1968), MSM Ayurvedic College (1973), BPS Mahila Polytechnic (1984), TIG Bhainswal Kalan (1999) and PSD Law College (2003).

2006 was a watershed moment for the group of educational institutions as the State Government upgraded it to a State University: Bhagat Phool Singh Mahila Vishwavidyalaya. The transition was envisioned with the university motto: Empowering women with education; and the metamorphosis complete with the university imparting education to nearly 6500 students in various programmes ranging from nursery to Ph.D. Since the university became functional, a South Campus at Bhainswal Kalan and two Regional Centres, one each at Lula Ahir and Kharal have been added.

10. Best practices (Describe at least two best practices)-

(i). Environmental Sustainability: Department of Fashion Technology is making students aware about the environmental sustainability and encouraging them to adopt practices and projects which could reduce carbon footprints. The various sustainable practices which students/staff/faculty are actively involved includes: creating art and craft work from waste, recycling of used clothes, creating sustainable apparels, reduce paper usage and the back side of assignments and left out pages of answer sheets are used for rough work and proof printing work. The Department has started the practice of communication regarding office orders, circulars and notices through emails/ whatsapp. This practice not only helps in reducing carbon and footprints but also save time and energy.

(ii). Plogging/ Swachh and Green Bharat Movement: Department of Fashion Technology is organizing awareness campaign time to time and a dedicated faculty (Ms. Pooja Kumari) for this movement leads the students of FT Department every month not only in the department but in University campus to make it clean and green. Plantation drive is integral part of it. Departmental Students and Staff have planted many plants in the University.

11. Best Practices (at least 2): Apart from best practices which the centre always exhibits in its offline classes, the following 2 best meaningful practices are being put across keeping the contemporary context in mind.

1. Training of Life Skills and Well being.

Mainstreaming the idea of health, well being and life skills through online faculty development programmes with stress management, yoga and meditation sessions. While the country has been grappling with the Covid 19, the faculty development programmes of HRDC is one of its kind in the country which mainstreamed the idea of well being at its centre for alongwith empowering teachers to keep the notion of health including mental and physical both as foremost. This could be materialized through engaging sessions on stress management, healthy life style, Ayurveda as a way of life and training of life skills which helps an individual to cope up with stress and anxiety. 02 workshops and Yoga Refresher courses and Women health webinar were organized which was practical oriented in the morning 6.30 am with Yoga administrators and participants performed and life style according to Indigenous system and healthy Ayurvedic living So the aim of our programmes was to prepare teachers to be mentally and physically strong so as to support their own families and students in these times of adversities rather than losing hope as how to manage online teaching learning process creatively with an empathetic and personalised learning approach.

2. Training of MOOCs, OER, E-Content and Online Pedagogy.

HRDC of BPSMV has been in the forefront when it comes about capacity building of teachers. One of its best practices (especially talking in the contemporary context of pandemic) has been imparting online training to hundreds of teachers about creating MOOCs, OER, E-Content apart from conducting classes with creative online Pedagogy. While with the wake of Covid 19 everything came to stand still, HRDC at BPSMV took up the initiative of reaching out to hundreds of teachers and equipping them with effective and creative ways of learning and dissemination who were marginalized from effective teaching learning methods due to mandatory condition of online classes. It is ensured that a component of online teaching methods and hands on sessions are integral component of all the faculty development programmes that HRDC conducts. 3 Moocs and ICT Refresher courses are organized.

Despite the adversity of uncertain times, HRDC in the last one year has tremendously grown par excellence and has exemplified its effectiveness and instrumental role in capacity building of teachers of higher education. It has conducted enriching faculty development programmes through meaningful dialogues and through provoking interactions with the academia through out the country. HRDC envisions to emerge as one of the best training centres in the country with world class resource persons from across the world so as to further enrich the quality of our programmes and by being in forefronts in providing effective online training to teachers of higher education and empowering them about the umpteen creative methods, tools and techniques of online teaching- learning process apart from their holistic development. So like this year 2020-2021, the department aims at benefiting thousands of teachers through its capacity building programmes.

University Campus School

About us

Ten years ago, a journey was started to build a better future of the students by providing quality education to all regardless of status, caste or creed. Since then we are making sincere effort to make University Campus School, a landmark in the field of education. The school is a co-educational English medium school, affiliated to the Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE), New Delhi.

Last year a new mode of performing various activities was developed. Due to Covid 19 students had to stay at home for a long duration. Every one had to rely on online mode. But students took this as a challenge and honed their skills in a different way. To cope with psychological stress of staying at home for long time, students tried doing various activities in school following social distancing in classroom and also some activities were held online. In online mode students performed these activities at home and shared their creativity in form of photos and videos. Later this spirit of enthusiasm helped them to learn a lot of new things.

This year academic learning with activities is focused to fulfill the breach made due to long absence in school. So to get more learning outcome students were given various topics to enhance their learning and creativity. Class wise activities are emphasized to encourage overall participation.
